Robin Wright
Ann Arbor native and U-M grad, Robin received an honorary and Waterman membership includes Lecture and Luncheon Series membership order.

Please write a $165 (postage included) $

❑

Email: jill@thefairchilds.net
Phone: (734) 417-0816
City:
Address:
Name:
________________________________________________________

TICKET ORDER FORM - DETACH AND MAIL

TO ORDER

• FILL-IN an individual order form for each subscription (photocopy acceptable).

• INCLUDE a check payable to: Waterman Alumnae Group.

• MAIL the order forms and checks in ONE master envelope to reserve luncheon seating for up to TEN people.

• RENEWING MEMBERS of current year can expect reserved seating if group payment is received by June 15, 2016.

• MAIL TO: Waterman Town Hall Series

                  P.O. Box 8142
                  Ann Arbor, MI 48107-8142

• QUESTIONS: Call or email: Jill Fairchild (734) 417-0816

                      jill@thefairchilds.net

EACH LUNCHEON LECTURE RUNS FROM 11:30 A.M. TO 1:30 P.M. IN THE MICHIGAN UNION BALLROOM (2nd floor).

Victoria Lautman is a freelance cultural journalist, writer, and lecturer. Her focus is on all forms of art and culture, from architecture and design to history and literature. She has a BA in anthropology and art history from the University of New Mexico and an MA in art history from George Washington University. She began her multifaceted career as an art historian at the Smithsonian Institution's renowned Hirshhorn Museum & Sculpture Garden. Victoria has written for dozens of international publications on architecture, design, art, and culture. For 30 years, Victoria has visited many of India's lesser-known, yet most compelling sights. It is this insider's view of the subcontinent that she passionately shares with others.

Marc Lapadula is a playwright, screenwriter, film producer, and university lecturer. His stage plays have been produced in the U.S. and in England. He produced Angel Passing, which premiered at the Sundance Film Festival and won, among other awards, the grand prize at WorldFest Houston. Marc has taught screenwriting, playwriting, and film analysis at Johns Hopkins, the University of Pennsylvania (his alma mater), Columbia University, and Yale University. He led the Screenwriting Series at the Smithsonian Institution. Marc studied Irish and English Drama at Oxford University, received his MA from the University of East Anglia in England, and earned an MFA in playwriting from the Iowa Writers’ Workshop.

Jean Kilbourne is recognized around the world for her pioneering work on the image of women in advertising. In the late 1960s, she began her exploration of the connection between advertising and public health issues. She created the renowned film series Killing Us Softly: Advertising’s Image of Women and authored the award winning book Can’t Buy My Love: How Advertising Changes the Way We Think and Feel. Jean received her BA in English from Wellesley College and a doctorate in education from Boston University. She has received numerous honorary degrees and national awards. Jean is known for her ability to present provocative topics in a way that encourages dialogue and empowers action.

Marc Lapadula
Marc Lapadula is a playwright, screenwriter, film producer, and university lecturer. His stage plays have been produced in the U.S. and in England. He produced Angel Passing, which premiered at the Sundance Film Festival and won, among other awards, the grand prize at WorldFest Houston. Marc has taught screenwriting, playwriting, and film analysis at Johns Hopkins, the University of Pennsylvania (his alma mater), Columbia University, and Yale University. He led the Screenwriting Series at the Smithsonian Institution. Marc studied Irish and English Drama at Oxford University, received his MA from the University of East Anglia in England, and earned an MFA in playwriting from the Iowa Writers’ Workshop.

Jean Kilbourne
Jean Kilbourne is recognized around the world for her pioneering work on the image of women in advertising. In the late 1960s, she began her exploration of the connection between advertising and public health issues. She created the renowned film series Killing Us Softly: Advertising’s Image of Women and authored the award winning book Can’t Buy My Love: How Advertising Changes the Way We Think and Feel. Jean received her BA in English from Wellesley College and a doctorate in education from Boston University. She has received numerous honorary degrees and national awards. Jean is known for her ability to present provocative topics in a way that encourages dialogue and empowers action.

Victoria Lautman
Victoria Lautman is a freelance cultural journalist, writer, and lecturer. Her focus is on all forms of art and culture, from architecture and design to history and literature. She has a BA in anthropology and art history from the University of New Mexico and an MA in art history from George Washington University. She began her multifaceted career as an art historian at the Smithsonian Institution's renowned Hirshhorn Museum & Sculpture Garden. Victoria has written for dozens of international publications on architecture, design, art, and culture. For 30 years, Victoria has visited many of India's lesser-known, yet most compelling sights. It is this insider's view of the subcontinent that she passionately shares with others.

International Affairs Expert................................. Robin Wright
Robin Wright is an American foreign affairs analyst, journalist, and author. She has reported from more than 140 countries on six continents for publications such as The Washington Post, The New York Times Magazine, and Time Magazine. She has been a fellow at several universities, the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars, and the U.S. Institute of Peace. Robin received the U.N. Correspondents Gold Medal, the National Magazine Award, and the Overseas Press Club Award. The American Academy of Diplomacy selected her as the journalist of the year in 2004. Her latest book is Rock the Casbah: Rage and Rebellion Across the Islamic World. Ann Arbor native and U-M grad, Robin received an honorary degree from her alma mater in 2015.

The History of Film................................. Marc Lapadula
Marc Lapadula is a playwright, screenwriter, film producer, and university lecturer. His stage plays have been produced in the U.S. and in England. He produced Angel Passing, which premiered at the Sundance Film Festival and won, among other awards, the grand prize at WorldFest Houston. Marc has taught screenwriting, playwriting, and film analysis at Johns Hopkins, the University of Pennsylvania (his alma mater), Columbia University, and Yale University. He led the Screenwriting Series at the Smithsonian Institution. Marc studied Irish and English Drama at Oxford University, received his MA from the University of East Anglia in England, and earned an MFA in playwriting from the Iowa Writers’ Workshop.

Women in Advertising................................. Jean Kilbourne
Jean Kilbourne is recognized around the world for her pioneering work on the image of women in advertising. In the late 1960s, she began her exploration of the connection between advertising and public health issues. She created the renowned film series Killing Us Softly: Advertising’s Image of Women and authored the award winning book Can’t Buy My Love: How Advertising Changes the Way We Think and Feel. Jean received her BA in English from Wellesley College and a doctorate in education from Boston University. She has received numerous honorary degrees and national awards. Jean is known for her ability to present provocative topics in a way that encourages dialogue and empowers action.

Inside India ........................................ Victoria Lautman
Victoria Lautman is a freelance cultural journalist, writer, and lecturer. Her focus is on all forms of art and culture, from architecture and design to history and literature. She has a BA in anthropology and art history from the University of New Mexico and an MA in art history from George Washington University. She began her multifaceted career as an art historian at the Smithsonian Institution's renowned Hirshhorn Museum & Sculpture Garden. Victoria has written for dozens of international publications on architecture, design, art, and culture. For 30 years, Victoria has visited many of India's lesser-known, yet most compelling sights. It is this insider's view of the subcontinent that she passionately shares with others.

University of Michigan
Margaret Waterman Alumnae Group
2016-2017 Town Hall Celebrity Lecture Series
Ticket Policy

• No cancellation of season tickets or refund of money after September 15.
• Eight days prior notice needed to receive tax receipt for unused tickets. Less than eight days, please notify Jill Fairchild at 734-417-0816 to release your ticket for individual purchase.
• For availability of individual tickets ($40 for Lecture and Luncheon), call Jill Fairchild after September 15.
• Reserved seating available for luncheon series.

If a speaker is unable to appear for any reason, we reserve the right to substitute another speaker.

The Waterman Endowment Fund
Thank you for your exceptional past support to the Waterman Endowment Fund. Donations to enhance the Endowment Fund are welcome at any time. Future scholarship recipients will always be appreciative of your continued support. You are able to donate now as instructed on your ticket order.

General Information

Updated parking information will be mailed with tickets.

The Michigan Union Ballroom is at 530 S. State Ann Arbor, Michigan 48109 (outdoor handicap access with elevator)

Program advertisement opportunities are available. Contact Sally Kennedy 734-994-9010 spynek@comcast.net

Celebrity Lecture Brochure is published once a year by Margaret Waterman Alumnae Group Post Office Box 8142 Ann Arbor, Michigan 48107-8142 www.watermanalumnae.org

All profits are used to provide scholarships for students at The University of Michigan.

Your support is vital to this goal.

Winter 2016
Issue 45
www.watermanalumnae.org